DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office action is in response to Applicant's amendment filed on 12/13/2001.
2. Claims 1-128 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 2, and 6-128 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Clark et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 5,890,140).

As per claims 1, and 8-128, Clark discloses an electronic delivery system that integrates a plurality of financial services which is equivalent to Applicant's claimed invention wherein said a system for data recipient electronic transactions comprising:

a first network (see., abstract, fig 1); and a second network (see., abstract, fig 1); and at least one data recipient computer associated with at least one data recipient and connected to the first network, wherein the at least one data recipient computer further comprises web server software for hosting a web page and executing client software for allowing the at least one data recipient to send and receive information over the first network (see., abstract, fig 1); and at least one gateway connected to the first network and a second network wherein the at least one gateway further comprise gateway software for allowing the file exchange between the first and second networks (see., abstract, fig 1, securities); and at least one data subject network communication device (Internet) associated with at least one data subject and connected to the second network, wherein the at least one data subject further comprises software for accessing and communicating over the second network to the gateway and to send and receive information over the first network (see., fig 15, col 20, lines 65-67, col 21, lines 1-60);

Art Unit: 2161

at least one data repository (fig 1, element 11) connected to the at least one gateway computer and to the at least one data recipient computer via the first network, wherein the at least one data repository further comprises data repository software, and wherein the client software further comprises instructions for forwarding a data recipient's offer to the at least one data repository via the gateway computer, the second network, and the software and the data repository software further comprises instructions for gathering information to complete a transaction (see., fig 15, col 20, lines 65-67, col 21, lines 1-60, gateway or securities, col 14, lines 14-21).

As per claim 2, Clark discloses the claimed limitation, wherein the data repository further comprises instructions to send the purchasing information to the at least one data recipient computer (see., fig 1, element 11, col 4, lines 50-67, col 5, lines 1-54).

Double Patenting

5. Claims 73-128 of this application 09/552,088 conflict with claims 64 and 102 of Application No. 6,092,053. 37 CFR 1.78(b) provides that when two or more applications filed by the same applicant contain conflicting claims, elimination of such claims from all but one application may be required in the absence of good and sufficient reason for their retention during pendency in more than one application. Applicant is required to either cancel the conflicting claims from all but one application or maintain a clear line of demarcation between the applications. See MPEP § 822.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 3-5 and 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Clark et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 5,890,140).

As per claims 3-5 and 6-7 Clark discloses the claimed limitation, but he fails to teach the steps of consisting of the Internet, LANS, WANS, Wireless and cable networks. However, Examiner hereby takes Official notice that LANS, WANS, wireless or cell, cable networks , HTML, XML, and WNL are notoriously well-known in the art, and therefore, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to modify the article of manufacture of Clark by including LANS, WANS, wireless or cell, and cable networks because LAN, WAN are geographic area equivalent to a standard metropolitan statistical that shared transmission medium and packet broadcasting and wireless and cable networks are way of communications (i.e satellite or coaxial cable or order means of communications).

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and relied upon is considered to applicant's disclosure.
